Academic Qualifications

LLB (Hons) AKC, King's College London

LLM (Dunelm) (Distinction), University of Durham

Bar Vocational Course, Nottingham Law School

A Blackstone Entrance Exhibitioner of the Middle Temple

Matthew primarily practices in the property, chancery and commercial fields and has considerable experience of advocacy, drafting and advisory work in the High Court and county courts and also attends mediations where appropriate.

Matthew's property practice encompasses property litigation and landlord and tenant disputes and includes matters of easements, covenants, boundary disputes (including trespass and nuisance), adverse possession and property damage as well as commercial and residential landlord and tenant issues (more details are contained in Matthew's Property & Chancery group profile.)

In the commercial field, Matthew has experience of insolvency matters (both personal and commercial) and contractual disputes (more details are contained in Matthew's Commercial & Business Group profile).

Matthew is also developing a public law and regulatory practice and, amongst other things, is regularly instructed by the state in condemnation proceedings (more details are contained in Matthew's Public Law & Regulatory profile).

In his rare spare time, Matthew is a keen sports fan; playing cricket and golf and watching pretty-much everything. He also enjoys music and theatre.
